*Serving You
with Honor*

Danny Gomes knows first hand the magic of the American Dream. He is the son of Portuguese immigrants who came to the U.S. eager for new opportunities and handed on their legacy of hard work and sacrifice to a new generation of Americans. A talented athlete, Danny was required to maintain his grades and a job if he wished to play sports. He got up early every day throughout high school and did whatever was required to pursue his dreams.

Shortly after high school, Danny joined the U.S. Army. Upon his return, he earned his degree in kinesiology while playing football at the University of La Verne. He served five years in the Army National Guard, before recommitting to active service with the U.S. Air Force. He has served in the Air National Guard ever since, for a total of 16 years of military service to our country.

Today, as co-owner of RE/MAX Legacy in Brea with his wife, Lisa, Danny continues to serve his community with honor by providing unrivaled service to families seeking their own American Dream. With more than a decade of industry experience as a Realtor® and investor, and with the power of RE/MAX behind him, Danny is giving his all to building a company founded on the core values he believes in: integrity, service, character, professionalism, excellence, respect and teamwork.

The effort Danny and Lisa have made to personify these traits is enthusiastically acknowledged by people who do business with them and their agents. One client reported: “Danny & Lisa - along with their entire team - are the utmost of professionals and know how to get the job done! Mr. Gomes is a war veteran who understands honor and keeps his word. Highest praise possible.”

Another said: “Danny and Lisa Gomes are incredible people who have really done a wonderful job showcasing their real estate knowledge in our local market. I have the pleasure of knowing them as well as other agents in their RE/MAX Legacy office and am so impressed by the kind and professional environment they have created. I would recommend RE/MAX Legacy to anyone with real estate needs.”

As a Realtor®, Danny inspires trust, and as a leader, he inspires excellence. “Our office exists to help our agents grow to their full potential. We define leadership as ‘service committed to mastery.’ I provide everything I can to help them grow as leaders in our office and in the industry, and to enrich their lives and lives in the community. We have 22 agents here, and I still produce with a team of six people. I want everyone to succeed.”

For Danny, serving with honor means standing by his word. “If something comes up in a transaction, I’ll do whatever it takes to make it work. I’m not going to let a client be upset. Sometimes, I just have to humble myself and remember that my integrity is more important than just this one deal. The client’s happiness is most important.”

A true patriot, Danny places special emphasis on assisting military personnel who want to own a home. He is a Military Certified Residential Specialist (MCRS) who often helps veterans with the cost of getting into a home and regularly supports causes that provide services to military personnel and their families.

Danny also has strong relationships with probate and trust attorneys, with whom he works to help families dispose of real estate assets with minimal worry. “There are a lot of downsizing baby boomers in this area and some who are passing away. I have services and vendors in place to make the process as smooth as possible for families going through this life transition, and often under challenging circumstances.”

Danny and Lisa enjoy living in their home community of Blackstone, where their young daughters have recently learned to ride their bikes on the neighborhood’s family-friendly streets. “Lisa and I work closely with our Community Home Association to help throw neighborhood events. Our community is unique in which there are many young families with children. We love gathering everyone together and hosting family fun events, like an Easter Egg Hunt, Summer Ice Cream Socials and Halloween parties so that our neighbors and community members can get to know one another.”

As a family man, a warrior, a professional, and a member of the community, Danny’s desire is to serve, and serve with honor. “I make it my personal mission to help in any way I can. It is my absolute passion to help others achieve their goals.”
